
Thalu

With their country under threat from a huge dust cloud and the mysterious Takers that lurk within, a small group of kids have to make their way to the Thalu, a place of great power.

13:26 mins | Rated G

Ruth Wallace

Ruth Wallace is the first female First Nations Marathon Project athlete from South Australia. Born in Adelaide, Ruth has represented Australia in the Junior Matilda team in 2009, the AFL, and played for the Adelaide United Cup in 2013. Ruth was also a young ambassador for Port Power Football Club in their community youth program. Ruth believes she can inspire others to promote healthy living and education to support First Nations communities through sport.

13:35 mins | Rated G

Deadly Family Portraits: Sansbury Sisters

Sisters Taree and Caleena Sansbury move seamlessly together as they dance across the stage, with connection to culture and a strong female energy present in every step.

10:59 mins | Rated G

Speaking For Sea Country – Betty Sumner

Discover the connections between her art, Ngarrindjeri weaving and belonging in this portrait of Ngarrindjeri artist, painter and sculptor Betty Sumner.

6:43 mins | Rated G

Deadly Family Portraits: Electric Mimili

Robert Fielding and Zaachariaha Fielding tell their story about reconnecting to culture and identity in their home of Mimili, in the far North-West of South Australia.

9:21 mins | Rated G

Nanawun Ngarrindjeri Yarluwar Ruwi – Caring for Meintangk Country

Caring for Ngarrindjeri Sea Country and Caring for Meintangk Country explores the effort to regrow and revitalise colonial farming land on the coast of South Australia. The documentary speaks with First Nations Elders Uncle Buddy and Uncle Doug as they explain their connection with country, the significance of the regrowth and what it means for the future.

7:54 mins | Rated G

50,000 Year Old Silk Road

The Oodnadatta track is really old. It predates the Silk Road by over 50,000 years. It follows the song-lines of our old people. This 'Super Highway' was brought about by the mound springs that is in the heart of Arabana Country. This Highway is our old trade route; it gave rise to the Overland Telegraph Line, Afghan heritage, pastoral activities and maintained the Arabana peoples for thousands of generations.

13:31 mins | Rated G

Keep Yarning Strong

A focus on a women's yarning group in Whyalla, South Australia. Participating women find collective pathways to healing, truth and harmony via regular meetings. Teen Shantae Barnes-Cowan (TOTAL CONTROL) looks to these women and their journeys to help light the way for her own path ahead. Co-directed with Shantae Barnes-Cowan.

12:05 mins | Rated M

The Protectors

An Aboriginal prisoner is taken back to a crime scene to help him try and remember the horrific events which occurred prior to his arrest.

6 mins | Rated M