ABOUT NUNGA SCREEN

Nunga Screen – held between Reconciliation Week and NAIDOC Week – is a short film showcase that shares and celebrates First Nations culture, stories and language through film.

Kaltjiti Travellers – Stuck in the City

The Secret

Nunga Screen offers an entertaining program of short films for all ages, showcasing the work of both emerging and established filmmakers.

The program includes inspiring documentaries, captivating stories, drama, animation, and a blend of contemporary and traditional storytelling. Dedicated to bringing communities together, Nunga Screen celebrates culture and fosters meaningful conversations with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

The curated program has rolled out across South Australia for 15 years and is now available for communities, schools, and workplaces nation-wide to host and share.

The program is divided into two parts, with the first half being suitable for primary school-aged students and up.

Curated exclusively from films created by or in collaboration with First Nations filmmakers, writers and directors, Nunga Screen is an opportunity to experience stories from diverse perspectives. Venues and communities across the state are invited to host the event.

Nunga (Aboriginal people of southern South Australia) Screen is presented by Country Arts SA.

SCREENING INFORMATION FOR WORKPLACES

Thank you for choosing to host Nunga Screen in 2026.

How to view:

The link will be available to share internally with your workplace from 26 May through to 17 July 2026.

Program:

The curated film event is presented in two parts. The first half features films suitable for all audiences, while the second half includes films with themes not suitable for children. A short interval will be provided between the two segments.

Please ensure that the content aligns with the event's theme and your duty of care by screening age-appropriate films.

We encourage you to partner with a local Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander organisation to co-host the event or provide a cultural activity. You may also wish to include an Acknowledgement of Country or Welcome to Country if you have chosen to host an event.

Technical details:

Films will be provided via a personalised link to the program hosted on the video streaming service, Vimeo. Each film will be displayed as a chapter on the video player to allow you to easily navigate to each film.

We recommend conducting a technical check prior to the event. This allows time to resolve any issues with the link or equipment before the screening.

Hosting fee:

The package you purchased includes the films and marketing/promotional materials you can use to promote the program.

The support of First Nations arts and artists is central to the work of Country Arts SA. Country Arts SA is a not-for-profit arts organisation and we proudly support the creative practice and integrity of the filmmakers by paying a royalty for every package purchased. A portion of the fee funds the creation and delivery of the Nunga Screen program and the remaining funds are directed towards future First Nations Programming and community initiatives through the Country Arts Foundation.
